Overlap

Latest U.S. Tax Compliance and Enforcement Efforts

- Continued criminal indictments/prosecutions relating to Foreign Accounts (including foreign bankers); will policy on extradition change over time?
- Two (2) recent situations in Spring 2012 where people were stopped by U.S. immigration officials regarding outstanding tax liabilities
- Pending bill in Congress to deny entry if significant tax compliance issues
- Still no ability for foreign lien or levy attachments- will this change with FATCA ?

FATCA – Foreign Account Tax Compliance

- Scope of FATCA is extremely broad.
- 30% withholding on payments to certain Foreign Financial Institutions (“FFI”) will apply unless exceptions are met – Code Section 1471.
- Effects almost every FFI which includes banks, custodians, brokers/dealers, insurance companies, certain pension plans and trustees.

FATCA – Foreign Account Tax Compliance

- Disclosure - certain FFI's must report the identity of U.S. account holders starting in 2014 (for the 2013 calendar year).
- Withholding payments to recalcitrant account holders or a non-participating FFI beginning in 2014.

FATCA – Foreign Account Tax Compliance

- Information about income on U.S. accounts must be reported to the U.S. beginning in 2016 (for the 2015 calendar year).
- Complete information on U.S. accounts including information about gross proceeds must be reported beginning in 2017 (for the 2016 calendar year).

FATCA – Foreign Account Tax Compliance

- Treasury also released a “joint statement” from the U.S., France, Germany, Italy, Spain and the U.K. announcing an agreement to explore “inter-governmental” cooperation thereby allowing FFI’s in each country to provide the information required by FATCA to that country’s tax authorities rather than to the IRS.

Major Highlights

- Enhance de-minimus exceptions and generally allow an FFI to rely on an “electronic review of its records for pre-existing accounts” with a balance or value of $1.0M or less.

New Phase and Dates for FATCA Reporting

- Proposed regulations contain a “bright line” of January 1, 2013 for distinguishing between “pre-existing” and “new” accounts.

Form 8938 – Status for 2011 Tax Year

- After the 90 day period has expired the maximum penalty is $50,000.
- Reasonable cause exception may be available.

Updates to the FBAR Form

- Revised Form (November 2011) requires taxpayers amending a previously filed FBAR to complete a new Form in its entirety as opposed to simply making the needed change and attaching a copy of the prior Form. No need to attach original Form.
- Taxpayer must wait at least 120 days to amend the previously filed FBAR after the original was filed as opposed to waiting 90 days.

Updates to the FBAR Form

- On January 22, 2010, Karen Hawkins, Director of the IRS' Office of Professional Responsibility stated that preparers have a duty to ask about ownership, control or interest in offshore accounts and to advise them about the obligation to file the FBAR document. Preparers must do more than simply ask the question on their intake form. They must affirmly discuss the topic. The standard has since been posted to the IRS website.
